Air Rifles, Blank & Pellet Guns

At Defcorp, we offer a wide range of license-exempt firearms to cater to various security needs. Our collection includes Blank Guns and Pellet Guns, each designed for specific applications and providing reliable performance.

Blank Guns

Blank guns are designed with shell casings loaded with gunpowder but lack a lethal projectile. Instead of a bullet, these guns are loaded with cotton or paper wadding. When discharged, the gun generates the sound of a real gunshot, accompanied by a muzzle flash due to the combustion of the gunpowder. Blank guns are often used for training, theatrical performances, or as deterrents in security situations, offering a non-lethal yet impactful option for a range of uses.

Pellet Guns

Pellet guns use air or gas to create pressure inside the barrel, compressing the gas to a higher density. When the trigger is pulled, this compressed gas is released, striking a hammer inside the gun. The hammer then hits the pellet with significant force, propelling it forward at high speed. While pellet guns are generally used for sport and self-defense, it's important to note that they can cause harm to humans or animals due to the force of the pellets. As such, they should be handled responsibly and primarily used for self-defense purposes.

Solar Packages

At Defcorp, we offer a range of solar packages designed to meet the diverse energy needs of residential, agricultural, commercial, and industrial clients. Whether you're looking to reduce energy costs, increase energy independence, or ensure a sustainable power supply, our solar packages provide reliable, efficient, and scalable solutions.
